Saul Cook, a son of Barnabas and Mercy (Brown) Cook, was born in Marshfield Massachusetts May 17, 1757 and died at Litchfield, Maine January 8, 1846. He served in the Revolutionary War. In part, his pension application of 1818 reads:

"I, Saul Cook, aged sixty years, a citizen of the United States born in Marshfield, Mass., but now of Litchfield, Maine. Upon oath, testify and declare that in Dec. 1775, I enlisted as a private soldier in the War of the Revolution for the term of one year-into the company commanded by Capt. Cushing and the Regiment commanded by Colonel Greaton of Massachusetts Regiment. I served my full enlistment and enlisted for two months longer in the same regiment."

"I was in a Battle on Lake Champlain under General Arnold. I took my final discharge at Morristown, New Jersey.

On February 23, 1781, Saul married Margaret Elizabeth Snow, who was born in 1766 and died in 1840.

5.BARNABUS COOK 3.SAUL COOK 1.BARNABAS COOK

Barnabus Cook, a son of Saul and Elizabeth (Snow) Cook, was born April 15, 1784, in at Litchfield, Kinnebec Maine and died in 1862 at Amma, Roane County, WV. His monument at Pleasant Hill Cemetery in Roane County WV lists him as a veteran of the War of 1812.

He married a widow, Lydia (Williams) Adams, in Maine. Lydia, a daughter of Jonathan and Rachel Williams, was born Aug 31, 1782 at Bowdoin, Sagadoc Maine and died April 17, at Litchfield, Kinnebec, Maine.

When Barnabas and Lydia were married about 1806, her first husband was supposed to have been lost at sea. However, sometime between 1816 and 1820, Lydia formed a habit of taking long walks in the woods. Barnabas became curious and followed and found that she was meeting her first husband, who was very much alive.

Not long after, Barnabas loaded a covered wagon and left Lydia, five children and Bowdoin, Maine for northwestern Ohio.

Apparently there was no formal divorce. Divorces were almost impossible to obtain in those days and that difficult was usually overcome by placing a couple of hundred miles between the parties.

In the 1850's Lydia filed an application for a pension as a widow of Barnabas Cook, a veteran of the War of 1812. Within a short time, Barnabas went to Charleston and filed a deposition that he was alive and well and no one's deceased spouse.

Once Barnabus arrived in Ohio, he became a minister of the Disciples of Christ and was sent as a missionary to that part of Kanawha County VA that is now Calhoun County WV. He was a pioneer of Kanawha county, where he served as justice of the peace and one term as Sheriff. He also managed to spend much time preaching the Christian gospel over a period of twenty-five years. The marriage records of Kanawha are strewn with his name and reports of marriages that he performed.

According to "Hardesty's History of Calhoun County", Barnabus was one of the very early settlers on the West Fork of the Little Kanawha River in what is now Calhoun County, WV. He met and married his second wife, Christina McCune about 1820, after moving to the West Fork Community.

Christina was born in 1804 or 1805, a daughter of Peter and Christina (O'Brien) McCune. Daniel DeWeese, a Civil War veteran (who was a native of Gilmer and Calhoun counties), recorded the following, in his 1905 book, Recollections and Experiences of a Lifetime:

"Squire Cook, in company with a comrade, Elijah McCumber, came as missionaries to the then wilderness of the West Fork, and Cook was the first minister of the gospel to preach a sermon within the present limits of Washington district, Calhoun County."

"Squire Barnibus Cook married Christena McCune, a daughter of Peter McCune, before referred to, while I was at Squire Cook's, who then lived just above the road opposite where what is now known as the Dock Parsons place, just South of the Lee district line. In the fall of 1841, I was at Squire Cook's when one of the settlers in the Squire's bailiwick, Daniel Coger, who had sold his wife sometime previous to Timothy McCune for an averagible deer's skin, dressed to be as large as a doe's hide, in delinquency of which payment, Coger sought a redress of grievance in Squire Cook's court, it being the first law suit that I ever attended, both litigants and witnesses being present and the cause coming on for hearing, the court heard all that was adduced by plaintiffs and defendants and the material facts being overwhelmingly in favor of the plaintiff, judgment was accordingly awarded for the deer hide and the costs upon which Wm. Truman, constable, was armed with an execution and commanded by the court to proceed accordingly."

Barnabus died in 1863 and Christina in 1879

1.BARNABAS COOK

Barnabas Snow Cook, a son of Barnabas and Christina (McCune) Cook, was born in Kanawha County VA (WV) June 10, 1832. Barnabas married Sarah Jane Truman in Kanawha County September 7, 1851. Sarah, a daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Leadman) Truman, was born March 18, 1836 and died December 29, 1877. Barnabas and Sarah lived first in Calhoun County, then moved to Spencer (Roane County) just before the Civil War.

Barnabas served as a 1st Lieutenant in Company A, 126 W.Va. Militia, Union.

While living in Spencer, Barnabas plied his trade of shoe and boot maker. He owned an acre lot lying on the West side of Market street, cornering on Market and Beauty streets, thence southward, including the lot now owned by the Presbyterian Church.

Barnabas married a widow, Emeline (Taylor) Justice September 23, 1878. Emeline, a daughter of Stephen and Mary Taylor, was born about 1840 and died June 2, 1913.
